1. The 21-year-old [redacted] was inducted into a KRAKOW (451/224) tank regiment in late 1948. The regiment was equipped with light tanks and armored track-laying vehicles.

2. Men younger than 21 years of age were not inducted for active duty in the voivode-county of RZESZOW (R 51/V 74) in early 1949. [redacted] specialists (such as locksmiths, mechanics, etc.) younger than 21-years old, from other voivode-counties had already been inducted into the armed forces.

☐ Comment:

The statement that a man of the 1927 class was inducted in late 1948 agrees with available information. The entire 1927 class was inducted into the Polish Army in the fall of 1948.

It is believed that classes younger than 1927 have not been inducted into the army *.

It was learned that men of the 1923 class were inducted into the ASW (Polish Corps for Interior Security) (press evaluation of September 1948). [redacted] KRAKOW tank regiment, mentioned in a previous report  has
